What Is Floatation Therapy?

Floatation Therapy promotes deep relaxation and full body rejuvenation by floating or suspending the body in a warm Epsom salt solution within a quiet and dark space.

Free from external distractions, Float Therapy is a powerful tool that promotes health and wellness and can also assist with pain relief and improve sleep.

Unlike other floats, we provide a float tank, not a pod, which ensures those who experience anxiety within confined spaces or claustrophobia, are also able to enjoy this amazing therapy.

BENEFITS:

- 60min Float is equivalent to 4hrs deep sleep
- Reduces symptoms of anxiety, depression & PTSD
- Muscle recovery
- Reduces inflammation
- Pain relief
- Improves sports performance
- Increased immune health
- Improves sleep disorders
- Reduces fatigue & jet lag
- Respiratory relief
- Magnesium absorption

What Are Recovery Boots?

When you exercise, you 'stress' your muscles, causing minor tears to your muscle fibres. These tears are what will later cause you to improve, but initially they result in muscle inflammation and the accumulation of metabolic waste.

Using recovery boots in your daily workout, you can speed up the recovery process that your body's lymphatic and vascular systems perform naturally over a longer period of time. Pneumatic compression increases blood circulation and helps your body get rid of accumulated waste in your muscles faster and more efficiently than your body normally can. The result is that your muscles heal and recover faster.

At La Cure, we use Air Relax Recovery Boots. Air Relax is an air compression device with multiple chambers that compress in succession. Our system increases blood flow through your muscles, which has been shown to aid with sports and other recovery, similar to the effects of a professional massage.

BENEFITS:

- Reduces muscle soreness
- Reduces fluid retention, swelling & inflammation
- Speeds up the recovery process
- More range of movement
- Improves circulation

What Is Infrared Therapy?

Infrared Therapy uses infrared lightwaves to heat the body rather than extreme air temperature. This means they produce results at lower temperatures than regular saunas, making them more accessible to people who can't tolerate the heat of a conventional sauna. There are three main categories of infrared lightwaves; near infrared which penetrates the dermal layer of the skin, mid infrared which penetrates the muscular level, and far infrared which penetrates the cellular level.

Our patented Sunlighten Solocarbon mPulse 3-in-1® sauna is the only sauna heater on the market to provide all three infrared wavelengths in one place that is customisable to each user to assist with detoxification, cardiovascular health, weight loss, pain relief, relaxation and anti-aging; without harmful UV radiation.

What is Cryotherapy?

Cryotherapy involves exposing your body or parts of the body to near-freezing temperatures created using liquid nitrogen.

This intense cooling process induces a number of beneficial physiological changes within the body and aims to promote muscle healing, improve recovery time and rehabilitation, reduce inflammation, relieve pain, support weight loss and enhance overall health.

Studies have also suggested it is beneficial in treating many conditions including rheumatoid arthritis, multiple sclerosis, psoriasis, sleep disorders and depression.

What Is Intravenous Therapy (IV) Therapy?

IV Therapy is a new approach to nutrition supplementation. IV administration, via injection or infusion, allows a range of vitamins, minerals and amino supplements to be effectively absorbed by the body. IV Therapy promotes a number of beneficial outcomes including enhancing muscular repair, increase energy, decrease fatigue, rehydrate, correct electrolyte imbalances and nutrient deficiencies, boost the immune system and support overall health.

While many vitamin, mineral and amino supplements are not well absorbed by the body when taken orally, administering via injection or IV allows for much higher doses and 100% absorption into the body.

PREMIUM DRIPS

Anti-Oxidants

The Anti-Oxidant is an ideal blend for people suffering from intense oxidative stress. With your oncologist's supervision, this cocktail would be particularly useful for clients undergoing radiotherapy or chemotherapy treatments. We have included three synergistic, powerful antioxidants to help give free-radical damage the flick.

Brain & Liver Cleanse

This drip includes Glutathione which is a powerful nutrient for detoxifying the liver, and one of the few substances that can cross the blood brain barrier to effect brain tissue. Almost impossible to absorb orally, this nutrient is best delivered intravenously. With this premium drip you will also enjoy a powerpunch of high dose Vitamin C, Magnesium, and Multi-B Vitamins to get your body, brain and liver performing at their best.

Recommended additional nutrients: Zinc, B12, Extra Magnesium

Modified Meyers Cocktail

This drip is the most popular one with our regular and new clients. It was the IV Drip that started it all, originally formulated by Dr John Meyer in the 1970's. Enjoy the reduction in oxidative stress that this soothing antioxidant cocktail provides. Get a boost of energy from extra B1, B2, B3, B5 and B6 to get you through the week. Includes Magnesium and Zinc so you can bounce into your holiday or back into your routine without the drag. Also great for those suffering fatigue from working night shifts.

Recommended additional nutrients: Glutathione, B12

Immunity

If you need something to kick that cold or flu before it sets in, this is it. A massive double dose of Vitamin C plus Zinc will send the cough and cold packing. Also a great cocktail for viral conditions, this drip is ideal for a wide variety of common illnesses and viral infections.

It includes the ultimate replenish push which includes vitamins, minerals and amino acids to amplify the actions of the NAD+.

Cryotherapy Facial

Single Treatment (30min)	$75
8 Treatments	$499

The Cryotherapy Facial is a cryogenic treatment that is performed by what is considered a “cryo probe,” which beams vaporized liquid nitrogen across the forehead, cheeks, nose and chin. Different from the cryotherapy chambers that can be used for pain relief, the facial helps the face look younger. The treatment helps the skin to feel tighter, and the pressurized liquid nitrogen helps stimulate collagen production while also filling in fine lines and wrinkles and decreasing pores. In rejuvenating the skin, the cryotherapy facial also restores radiance, soothes inflammation and improves skin texture and tone. In some cases this treatment may assist clients who are suffering from more severe skin conditions like eczema, psoriasis and dermatitis due to its anti-inflammatory properties. Discuss this further with your skin therapist regarding your specific case.

Light Therapy

Single Treatment (40min)	$79
8 Treatments	$550

A non-invasive treatment that uses the power of LED light for visibly radiant, rejuvenated and refined skin. Light Therapy helps the skin produce more collagen and repair the tissues in the skin. Cell vitality is encouraged, skin conditions such as sun damage, acne and aged skin improved and restored. Pore size reduced, skin texture refined and toned. A safe and effective treatment for a wide range of skin conditions without discomfort or downtime.

Customised Resurfacing Peels

Single Treatment (30min)	$99
6 Treatments	$500

Our peels are professional grade exfoliating acids applied to the skin to help visibly resurface and retexturise the complexion. At a fraction of the price of laser treatment, they can significantly help reduce the appearance of wrinkles, pigmentation and blemishes with less discomfort and downtime. Our Skin Therapists will discuss the best peel options with you for your skin type.

Used to turn back the clock, tighten, firm, reduce fine lines, reduce pigmentation, increase collagen, plump, brighten and rejuvenate the skin.

Clients can come in prior to their appointment to collect a Needling info pack which includes a client consent form to take to a local chemist should they wish to use numbing cream before their treatment. The depths of the needles are determined by the skins condition and concerns.
